THE DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE

12 July 1974

Office of the Director

MEMORANDUM FOR THE UNITED STATES INTELLIGENCE BOARD

SUBJECT: National Intelligence Officers' "Status of Work in Process" Report

1. The attached report, which (starting today) will be sent to you each Friday, is prepared weekly for the Director of Central Intelligence to apprise him of the various projects (Estimates, interagency memoranda, NSSM and NSDM responses, special memoranda, requests for NIO comments, etc.) being carried out by or under the aegis of the National Intelligence Officers. We thought you also might find this report of some interest and utility as an inventory of NIO activity and, perhaps, as a management tool helpful in planning your inputs to the Community work initiated through the NIO mechanism.

2. This report reflects the range of tasks and projects in which the National Intelligence Officers are involved in carrying out the mission levied on them by the DCI. As we have made clear to Mr. Colby on many occasions, however, the actual work on these projects is done by analysts and officers throughout the Intelligence Community. The results, therefore, are the results of corporate Community endeavor and not the accomplishments of this single office. As I hope all of you recognize, the NIOs perforce look to each of you and to your organizations for support and assistance, without which these tasks could never be executed. Needless to say, your and your associates' invaluable cooperation in these endeavors is greatly appreciated.

3. For obvious reasons we consider this report to be an extremely sensitive document, since it inventories subjects of current priority interest to senior policy-level consumers. We therefore request that only those with a genuine need to know be given access to it and that it be given the internal controls within your respective organizations appropriate to its sensitivity.
